The Solano Mudcats were established in 1990 by Shawn Scibek, George Sebens, and Jed Czajkowski. Some team names were discussed, Czajkowski offered up the Mudcats name and all 3 agreed that it should be the Solano Mudcats rather than the Vacaville Mudcats.

The Mudcats soon joined the Fontenetti's League based in San Jose, a year round league where the Cats played over a hundred games a year. They then decided to join the Cal-Neva Wood Bat league. Finally, the Mudcats found a home with the Sacramento Rural League in 1993.

The Sacramento Rural league, which has been around since 1946, provided the stability the Mudcats needed. Once an established top semi-pro club, the Mudcats have now transitioned into a Collegiate Baseball organization.
